

GRAND VUE

MARSHALL COUNTY, WV

WELCOME TO GRAND VUE!

Grand Vue would like to thank all of those that have helped us in getting through the past 50 years, without you we would not be so excited about our future. It's 2025 and we are very excited to see what this year will bring! The Park Board has worked hard this past year to prepare for some new additions to Grand Vue. Changes are being made to enhance the guest experience in all areas of the park. Grand Vue is proud to be part of a community on the rise with the enhancement of our local parks as well as new additions like the Ohio Valley Ironmen. The park team will continue to keep the park clean and safe as well as be there for your needs.

If you are looking to CELEBRATE with friends and family by hosting reunions, weddings or graduations, if you want to PLAY by ziplining, mountain biking, swimming, disc golfing, star watching, birding or hiking, or stay in the cabins and RV park to ESCAPE the stress of everyday life, Grand Vue is the place for you. It is our goal to make each experience at Grand Vue the best it can be. When interacting with our team, let us know your thoughts and suggestions as we continue to enhance your experience.

We want to thank the Marshall County Commission for their continued support in the growth of Grand Vue and look forward to working with our new Commissioner David McLaughlin. Without our volunteers and community support through the Grand Vue Park Foundation, we would not be able to provide top-of-the-line programming. Grand Vue...Celebrate, Play, Escape.

LANDSCAPING TIPS WITH CODY

In West Virginia, January typically brings in cold temperatures and potential snowfall, which significantly impacts landscaping maintenance. One of the primary tasks during this month is ensuring that your plants and garden are protected from the harsh winter conditions. This involves mulching around the base of plants to insulate the roots and prevent them from freezing. It's also essential to regularly check for any signs of frost damage and remove any dead or damaged foliage to prevent the spread of disease.

Another crucial aspect of landscaping maintenance in January is snow and ice management. Keeping walkways, driveways, and other hardscaped areas cleared of snow and applying salt or other de-icing agents. However, it's important to use these products sparingly and choose environmentally friendly options to avoid damaging your plants and soil.

Lastly, January is a good time to plan for the upcoming spring. This includes inspecting your gardening tools and equipment, making any necessary repairs, and planning your garden layout and plant selection for the new season. Taking these steps now ensures that you're well prepared to hit the ground running once the warmer weather arrives, allowing your landscape to thrive throughout the year!

Happy gardening,
Cody Carpenter
Maintenance Director and avid landscaper.
