ANNUAL STORYTELLING FESTIVAL AT GRAND VUE

Grand Vue proudly hosted the Annual Storytellers Festival, organized by the West Virginia Storytelling Guild (WVSG). This guild comprises a diverse array of members, each approaching storytelling from unique perspectives. Some members regularly perform at various venues, including schools, libraries, churches, festivals, and civic organizations. Others incorporate storytelling into their professional lives, representing fields such as education, counseling, business, youth services, and ministry.

The storytellers of West Virginia are dedicated to preserving the cultural art of storytelling, ensuring it does not fade into obscurity. Through their diligent efforts, this time-honored craft has been safeguarded for future generations. The West Virginia Storytelling Guild not only shares narratives but also teaches the art of storytelling while nurturing both emerging storytellers and attentive listeners. They honor individuals who have made significant contributions to the storytelling tradition within the state. The WVSG is committed to sustaining these traditions while encouraging new growth, proudly representing West Virginia's vibrant storytelling heritage.

This year's festival featured participation from several schools, including Glen Dale, Middle Creek, and the 2nd and 3rd grades from Elm Grove, as well as Madison, Shadyside, and Woodsdale Elementary. Grand Vue would like to express its heartfelt gratitude to Jamie, Fran, Teri, Mike, Jo Ann, and Judi for sharing their stories and spending the day with us!

ANNUAL FALL FESTIVAL AT GRAND VUE RECAP

Grand Vue just wrapped up one of the biggest and busiest days of the year! The weather did not keep fall away for the 2024 Fall Festival attendees. We had a day full of activities, games and fall crafts for all ages to enjoy.

The face painting and the balloon artist line seemed never-ending along with the line inside of Flurrys! The Grand Gourd Toss had some competition this year with $1400 in GVP gift cards up for grabs!

Our Kiddie Land was full of little cowboys and cowgirls on the animal farm hoppers and lasso games. Other big hits included jumbo jenga, marble towers, bubble extravaganza, sack races and fall crafts.

Other attractions throughout the festival included live wood carving, axe throwing, fresh apple cider, and live music! Food at the festival was provided from The Vue Bar & Grill, The Gingos Tacos, Izzy's Food Truck and Neon Concessions!

We want to extend tremendous gratitude to our 2024 Fall Festival sponsor, HUGHES Office Equipment, for their support this year and helping us with another successful Fall Festival!

The vendors at the Fall Festival ranged from jewelry and hand-crafted art to baked goods, jams and jellies. It was a great day to spend with friends and family of Grand Vue Park. The festival ended with the popular foam party, but the activities did not stop there. Grand Vue ended the busy day with a fireworks show to officially kick off the fall season!

The Fall Festival would not be possible without our staff who plan, set up and work the event! We want to thank all GVP staff that made the day possible. This festival gets bigger every year and we want to thank everyone who attended and spent the day with us! We can't wait for next year!
